Re: Claims of Ronald Ray Rewald and Bishop, Baldwin,
Rewald, Dillingham & Wong, Inc. against the Central Intelligence Agency

Dear Mr. Casey:

The purpose of this letter is to submit to the Central Intelligence Agency for administrative determination the claims of Ronald Ray Rewald; his wife Nancy Imp Rewald; their five children Debbie, Buffy, Jeff, Pam, and Jim; and Bishop, Baldwin, Rewald, Dillingham & Wong, Inc., and its creditors, investors, and employees in accordance with the requirement of the Federal Tort Claims Act, 28 U.S.C. §2675(a). This is without waiver of any rights, as therein provided, to file these claims as a third party complaint in response to lawsuits already on file. One Robert M. Laprade is an attorney retained by the office of the general counsel of the CIA who is familiar with this matter as it has progressed here in Honolulu. Also, your former head of station in Honolulu, John C. Kindschi, and your present head of station, Jack Rardin, are likewise familiar with the facts.

The detail of the relationship between Mr. Rewald and the Agency is set forth in Mr. Rewald's confidential, sealed 53-page affidavit together with the 95 exhibits attached. Mr. Laprade undoubtedly has a copy. Also, a copy was furnished to John Peyton, Assistant U.S. Attorney, here in Honolulu.

The claims herewith submitted are set forth in the enclosed complaint, which I would intend to file in United States District Court here in Honolulu upon denial of the administrative claim, and also with the United States Claims Court in Washington, D.C.. It refers in general to various lawsuits filed against Mr. Rewald, copies of which are also enclosed.

What is sought in the presentation of this claim is an administrative determination that the United States government is liable under the Federal Tort Claims Act (and under the Tucker Act, 28 U.S.C. §§1346(a)(2) and 1491). Specifically, the administrative claim seeks a determination that the United States Government is liable to the Rewalds and their children and to Bishop Baldwin and its creditors, investors, and employees, with the exact amount of that liability to be determined later.

We ask for a prompt determination of this administrative claim, so that, if the claim is denied, we are free to proceed in court.

Yours very truly,

Robert A. Smith
